

Dear Valued Customer,

We are pleased to announce that 3M has completed its acquisition of Scott Safety. Scott Safety provides a broad array of safety products including Self-Contained Breathing Apparatus (SCBA) systems, gas and flame detection instruments, and other safety devices. 3M's Personal Safety Division provides respiratory, hearing, and fall protection solutions, as well as high-visibility apparel, communications and head, eye, and face protection. Now, by combining our two organizations' quality products, brands and global capabilities, 3M and Scott Safety can provide even more innovative solutions to help create a safer world.

We anticipate a smooth transition of the Scott Safety business. At this time, there are no changes to ordering, fulfillment, or payment processes for 3M or Scott Safety. Your 3M and Scott Safety representatives remain the same, and look forward to providing you the same great service you have come to expect.
