Margo

National Sales Manager
– Medical Solutions

I manage a team of sales representatives in Ireland selling medical products, used to treat patients in hospitals, residential care and at home.

I support my team to deliver their sales targets and ensure that customers are informed and trained to use our products to deliver the best patient care.

Qualification Needed

Registered General Nurse and Diploma in Operating Theatre Nursing

What type of scientific evidence do healthcare professionals look for to reassure them that a medical device is effective and safe to use to care for their patients?

"My team and I know that we are making a difference as our products help to improve patients' lives."
