Pernille

Sustainability Manager

I look to the future to identify new sustainability trends and regulations. I share 3M's sustainability success stories externally and encourage employees across Europe to take part in activities that promote and help to improve sustainability within our company and our communities. I also compare 3M's sustainability-related performance with other organisations to ensure we continue to be a leader in sustainability actions.

"I am excited to see how we apply science in a collaborative way to improve lives. In fact sustainability is embedded into 3M's product development process ensuring that all new innovations have a positive environmental or social impact."
