Features and Benefits

Scotch-Brite™ Nonwoven Technology

Performance. Durability. Reliability. Quality of finish.

- Built with Nonwoven synthetic fibre webs
- Simplicity of operation
- No compromise on quality

Scotch-Brite™ Technology Explained

- Flexible nylon fibres reinforced with resin and mineral
- The fibres and particles are bound together to form an open, three-dimensional structure
- Structure helps the product conform and bounce back without leaving an uneven finish
- 3M Nonwoven web is engineered to continually expose fresh abrasive to the surface for a consistent, smoother finish

Productivity and Safety Benefits

- Abrasives resist loading due to their open and tough web construction
- Reduces the risk of substrate discolouration and warping, and prolongs product life
- Better conformability means less rework and rejects, which helps save time during the production process
- Faster action means less 'trigger time' spent on the tool, which means less exposure to hand-arm vibration
