Purpose: This document contains information related to anti-corrosion treatment and repair for all General Motors vehicles.

Any procedure that disturbs sound deadeners or anti-corrosion materials, such as panel replacement or collision damage repair operations, may leave the metal unprotected and result in corrosion. Proper recoating of these surfaces with service-type anti-corrosion material is essential. After repair and/or replacement parts are installed, all accessible bare metal surfaces must be treated with metal conditioner and reprimed. After a collision, some vehicle structure repair areas may need to be repaired. In most cases, the anti-corrosion materials, both Closed Cavity coatings and Undercoat coatings, need to be removed and replaced after the repair.
